NEW ENGLAND INSTITUTE FOR PREHOSPITAL MEDICINE INC. (NEIPM) provides initial and recertification training for the EMS industry, including EMR, EMT, and Paramedic training programs. Annually, we offer two paramedic training programs, four EMT programs, as well as CPR and EMR initial training on request. In addition to our initial courses, we offer ongoing live in person and distance learning continuing education for EMR, EMT, and Paramedic in accordance with the NREMT requirements. Whether you are looking to explore a career in EMS, or you are an agency such as law enforcement or the fire service seeking initial training or recertification, we provide the healthcare education courses to suit your needs.

We employ a diverse full-time and part-time educational staff to meet a variety of needs. Our faculty members are certified EMS-Instructors under the MA Department of Health as well as numerous educational assistants with varying areas of expertise. While we host the majority of the courses at our facility in Wilmington MA, for large groups we will also travel to you. We have experience in healthcare training for small community groups as well as large corporations.

NEIPM provides unsurpassed educational services marked by clinical excellence, customer service, and community recognition. The success of our service is founded on five important values: Caring, Excellence, Service, Teamwork and Community.

We are pleased to continue to deliver high quality and relevant professional development opportunities for the EMS providers of today. While NEIPM offers ongoing regularly scheduled AHA, EMT, and Paramedic training programs we do offer other programs that can be scheduled upon request.

EMT TRAINING

The EMT Program at the New England Institute for Prehospital Medicine Inc. is how we got our start. We have been providing this entry-level training for students since 2006. On average, we conduct eight (8) EMT programs yearly. We offer a variety of scheduling options including part-time day & evening offerings in the fall and spring as well as a fulltime high performance class in the summer.

PARAMEDIC TRAINING

The mission of the new Paramedic Education Program Consortium at the New England Institute for Prehospital Medicine Inc. is to provide extraordinary emergency medical "service education with highly qualified instructors, innovative instructional tools, and first-class clinical and internship opportunities.

CPR TRAINING

In addition to providing EMS and paramedic training, New England Institute for Prehospital Medicine Inc. is your local AHA Community Training Center. We offer CPR, AED and First Aid for the public as well as BLS, PALS, and ACLS for healthcare providers.
